Honored Students

*The following students were chosen by their departments as exemplary student representatives.
Those speaking and offering prayers have been selected from among these students.*

Colson Glenn Beus, from Pasco, Washington, is graduating magna cum laude in cell biology and physiology. He is the son of Nathan and Heather Beus. Colson served in the California Roseville Mission and the Argentina Buenos Aires North Mission. He received the Richard T. Peery Scholarship and was on the dean's list. While at BYU, he worked on metabolic research and was a teaching assistant in anatomy. Colson volunteers as an ESL/piano teacher at MyHometown Provo. He also works as a medical assistant at Summit Foot + Ankle podiatry clinic. He enjoys skiing, wakesurfing, running, Raising Cane's Caniac Combo, and trying—but usually failing—to sit in the front row at BYU sporting events. After graduation, Colson will attend medical school at Washington State University's Elson S. Floyd College of Medicine in Spokane, Washington.

Rebekah Kate Christensen, from Clinton Township, Michigan, is graduating cum laude in biodiversity and conservation. She is the daughter of Jeffrey and Linsee Christensen and the fiancée of Joshua Herrera. Rebekah served in the Washington Kennewick Mission and the Korea Seoul South Mission. She interned at the Naturalis Biodiversity Center in the Netherlands and studied old growth forests in Alaska for a polar ecology class. She enjoys reading, writing, gardening, ballroom dance, and cuddling with her cat, Snickers. She also loves snails, the environment, science, libraries, and dark chocolate. After graduation, Rebekah plans to work in the field of conservation.

Janey Gail Cress, from Kimberly, Idaho, is graduating summa cum laude in environmental science and sustainability. She is the daughter of Justin and Rebecca Cress. Janey received BYU academic scholarships, was on the dean's list, and maintained a 4.0 GPA. She also received a College Undergraduate Research Award from BYU Life Sciences to study the effects that sediment pollution from grazing has on aquatic macroinvertebrate populations. While at BYU, she had the opportunity to work in three research labs, including one in which she studied caddis flies and their silk for more than a year. Her primary areas of interest are freshwater ecology and aquatic insects. She is also interested in community outreach and the intersections of science and art. After graduation, Janey plans to pursue a master's degree in freshwater ecology or environmental science and eventually work in surface water monitoring.

Scott (Scotty) Burton Cutler, from Centerville, Utah, is graduating cum laude in neuroscience. He is the son of Paul and Sherry Cutler and the husband of Megan Scow Cutler. He and Megan have a nine-month-old daughter, Amelia. Scotty served in the New Mexico Farmington Mission and the Chile Santiago North Mission. He received full-tuition scholarships the last three years and was on the dean's list. He also obtained an advanced language certificate in Spanish, receiving advanced mid scores on the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages (ACTFL) oral proficiency interview and the writing proficiency test. While at BYU, he was a teaching assistant for introductory sociology and the team lead in the research lab studying cross-axial adaptation of the vestibulo-ocular reflex in mice. He also served as the events and service director of the BYU Neuroscience Student Association. Scotty has volunteered at various physical rehabilitation clinics, including the physical therapy clinic at Utah State Hospital, the Community Rehabilitation Center in Provo, and Now I Can, an intensive physical therapy clinic for children with disabilities. He enjoys tennis, pickleball, spikeball, flying drones, and being a dad. After graduation, he plans to attend medical school to become a physical medicine and rehabilitation doctor. He wants to assist patients, especially children, in navigating stroke recovery and other physical disabilities.

Gregory Brandon Hooke, from Eagle Mountain, Utah, is graduating cum laude in public health with an emphasis in health science. He is the son of Gregory and Francel Hooke and the husband of Emily Curtis Hooke. He and Emily have a one-month-old son, Dante. Gregory served in the Ukraine Dnipro Mission. He received full tuition scholarships, was a Hinckley Scholar, and was on the dean's list. While at BYU, he was cofounder and president of the Life Sciences Belonging Council and helped create a university-wide council. He coauthored two published research papers, participated in the diversity summer internship program at Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health, and was a research assistant at Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, where his research team created an artificial intelligence program that identifies patients with subdural hematomas. Greg serves as a Spanish and Russian interpreter at Maliheh Free Clinic. His hobbies are snowboarding, wakesurfing, and hiking with his wife. As a proud Dungeons & Dragons dungeon master, he loves the art of storytelling and crafting characters and wants to write middle-grade fantasy books with his wife. After graduation, he plans to attend medical school and hopes to specialize in neurology or pediatrics.

Christina Liana Neumarker, from Tucson, Arizona, is graduating summa cum laude in exercise science. She is the daughter of Alan and Alina Larsen and the wife of Riley Neumarker. Christina received a Heritage Scholarship, was on the dean's list, and maintained a 4.0 GPA. She enjoys being active and spending time outside when it's warm. She loves going to the gym with her husband every day as well as spending time swimming and reading. She is particularly interested in anatomy and understanding how the body functions, so being in the dissection lab has been a great place for her to de-stress. She also loves interacting with and helping patients at the physical therapy clinic where she works. After graduation, Christina will attend the University of Utah with a Pathway to Success Scholarship to pursue a doctorate degree in physical therapy.

Emily Paige Shakespear, from La Mirada, California, is graduating summa cum laude in microbiology with a minor in creative writing. She is the daughter of Paige and Forest Ferkin and the wife of Tyler Shakespear. Emily received BYU academic scholarships, was on the dean's list, and maintained a 4.0 GPA. While at BYU, she was a teaching assistant for several MMBio courses and worked in two research labs, studying iron uptake systems in E. coli and the role of the c-fms promoter in mouse bone marrow. She received honorable mention in the 2022 Visualizing Learning Student Art Competition for her drawing titled Of Nazareth. Emily enjoys art, tabletop games, and writing short fiction and fantasy novels. After graduation, she will work in the industry before applying for a PhD in immunology.

Julia Kay Wangsgard, from Elk Grove, California, is graduating magna cum laude in food science with a minor in chemistry. She is the daughter of Brian and Angee Wangsgard. Julia served in the Argentina Buenos Aires West Mission. She received the Brigham Young Scholarship and the William M. Bancroft Scholarship and was on the dean's list. As a member of the BYU Food Science Club, she participated in the Institute of Food Technologists Student Association (IFTSA) College Bowl Competition. She was also the BYU team captain at the Intermountain Milk Processors Association dairy product development competition. Julia is a BYU sports fanatic. She enjoys floral design, hiking, camping, and sports, especially soccer. After graduation, she will intern at Cornaby's Specialty Foods this summer and then start the BYU food science master's program in research and product development. She wants to work in the dairy industry with an emphasis on ice cream.

Music Performers

Riannyn (Anny) Natalie Andrews, from Navarre, Florida, is a freshman majoring in music education. She is the daughter of Scott and Ada Andrews. She has played piano for fifteen years, and though piano has been her main focus, she has always liked being involved in different activities. In high school she was very academically focused and was selected as class valedictorian. She also loved participating in sports, theater, and choir. She worked for her school as a Latin tutor, piano teacher, and piano accompanist for select choirs. She was awarded a $5,000 music scholarship from Choctaw Bay Music Club and was invited to play piano for their honors recital that year. She plans to serve a mission before completing her education and ultimately wants to be a music teacher and stay-at-home mom.

Sheri L. Peterson, from Springville, Utah, earned a master's degree in organ performance from BYU. She is a member of the Guild of Carillonners in North America and a member of the Music Teachers National Association. She was dean of the Utah Valley Chapter of the American Guild of Organists and has been published in the American Organist magazine.

Sydney Faye Stuart, from Blackfoot, Idaho, is graduating in neuroscience. She is the daughter of Sharee and Gregory Stuart. A violinist for thirteen years, she has been a member of the BYU Philharmonic for three years and has performed with the BYU Chamber Orchestra. She also plays in a string quartet and frequently performs at various events. She currently works as a certified medical assistant at the BYU Student Health Center, has been published in Chiasm (the BYU undergraduate journal of neuroscience), and is a two-time recipient of the Shin Neuroscience Scholarship. After graduation, Sydney will apply to medical school.

Scholastic Recognition

University Honors

Students graduating with University Honors have completed several interdisciplinary general education courses, leadership development experiences, an interdisciplinary essay, and a thesis and have also defended their thesis in their major discipline.
